

SEN. TILLMAN WELCOMES TAFT

At Banquet at Charleston, S.
C., Last Night

OVATION TO PRESIDENT

In Savannah Was Married by an Accident to Two Men Firing a Salute.
President Goes to Augusta
To-day.

Charleston, Nov. 6.—Charleston, like other cities in the South, gave President Taft a flattering welcome. The president arrived here at 5:30 yesterday afternoon and reviewed the military parade. He held a reception at Mayor Rhett's home and attended a banquet in the evening. Charleston folks made this banquet as gay as possible for Taft. They had read in the papers of a double dose of Southern oratory that the president got at Thursday night's Savannah banquet and they decided to have only one brief speech besides the president's. That was merely a welcome by the mayor or the city. United States Senator Tillman greeted the president at the feast here last night and had a place near President Taft at the speaker's table. This is the first presidential banquet the senator has participated in for a good many years. Darkness was falling as the president entered Charleston, but electric lights were strung across the streets and big crowds had a good view of him.

As the president approached, the chimes of a church pealed out "American." On the green several companies of regular troops, militia and military school cadets were drawn up. The president's automobile circled them in the dim light and then drew up again under street illuminations where the president watched the companies file past.

The president's stay in Savannah yesterday was marred by an accident to two men who were firing a salute in his honor. There was a premature explosion of a charge and one man, a negro, had an arm blown off and the other, a white, lost an eye.

The president himself witnessed the accident, being only a short distance from the cannon. Early yesterday the president left for Augusta, Ga.

DANES JEALOUS OF PRIVILEGE.

They Want no Americans Present at the Examination of Cook's Data.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—The feeling among the professors of the university of Copenhagen who are directly concerned in the prospective examination of the north pole records of Dr. Cook, yesterday was distinctly against agreeing to the proposal of the National Geographic society that a committee of Americans be present at the examination.

The rector had a conference yesterday with Professor Stromgren, the astronomer, and Dr. C. F. Peabody of the meteorological office, both of whom have been designated to investigate Dr. Cook's records. Professor Stromgren warmly resented the suggestion and declared he was absolutely opposed to others than representatives of the university having anything to do with the first examination.

Rector Thorpe, however, decided to submit the proposal of the National Geographic society to the consistory of the university and that body has been summoned to meet to-day and settle the matter.

It is anticipated that the majority of the consistory will prove no more favorable to the present proposition than it did to the earlier suggestion that the university waive its claim to prior examination in favor of the United States.

MANY AT FARMERS' CONGRESS.

There Are Several Important Papers at Raleigh, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—The addresses at the Farmers' Congress Thursday were heard by an audience of about 1,500 at the Agricultural and Mechanical college. The chief addresses were by Hon. Hilary A. Herbert of Washington, former secretary of the navy, and James Bruce, British ambassador to the United States. Mr. Herbert's theme was the development of the South and the obstacles it had to overcome.

Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, president of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways association, spoke on the need of better transportation facilities in this country, particularly waterways. The annual address of Colonel Benjamin Cameron of Raleigh, president of the farmers' national congress, closed the afternoon session. In the evening Ambassador Bruce addressed the State Library and Historical society of North Carolina.

SCANDAL IMMINENT.

Defaulting Railroad Treasurer May Implicate Others.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Developments of the most sensational character, involving at least three other persons, are expected to follow revelations made by C. L. Warriner, defaulting treasurer of the "Big Four" railroad.

Warriner has been removed to the Bunker house, where he is closely guarded by two private detectives. He was taken from the Sinton hotel late Thursday afternoon.

It is now said that the total amount of his shortage will aggregate between $150,000 and $175,000. It is said that he confessed that large amounts had been paid over to a former associate, who learned of his wrongdoing and who persistently blackmailed him for years. He was also said to have sustained very heavy losses in a long series of poker games and in grain and stock speculation.

AHEARN MUST VACATE AT ONCE.

President of Manhattan Borough Denied Time for Further Litigation.

New York, Nov. 6.—John F. Ahearn, president of the borough of Manhattan, will have to vacate immediately the office from which he was removed by Governor Hughes and to which he was afterwards re-elected by the board of aldermen. The appellate division of the supreme court yesterday denied his request for time in which to conduct further legal procedure in his contest for retention in office. It was expected that by this means he would be able to continue in the borough presidency until January 1, when the term of office to which he was elected expires. Yesterday's decision is taken to mean that he must comply at once with the court of appeals' decision confirming the illegality of his re-election by the aldermen.

INDEPENDENCE PARTY WINS.

Nationalists Have Large Majority in the Philippine Assembly.

Manila, Nov. 6.—Practically complete returns from the recent election indicate that the assembly will be composed of sixty Nationalists, fifteen Progressives and five Independents. The Nationalists also gained four provincial governors over the number elected by that party at the last election. Similar gains in other offices have been made by the Nationalists. Some of the returns are still missing, but they are not likely to make any material change in the figures given. Though there was no vital issue in this campaign, the Nationalists stood two years ago for the immediate independence of the islands.

LOMBARD INDICTED.

Grand Jury Returns True Bill Against Town Treasurer.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—The grand jury yesterday returned an indictment for forgery against former Town Treasurer John B. Lombard of Framingham, and for larceny and uttering notes against Charles C. Cummings of Boston, a note broker, as the result of last month's discoveries of alleged forged notes of the town of Framingham amounting to over $300,000. Arraignment will be delayed, as Cummings is in the Suffolk county jail pending the disposal of his case by the Suffolk grand jury, and Lombard is confined to his home by illness.
